Xmas Seal Sales Up Over Last Year

Christmas Seal receipts for Drumheller and district for the first week of the 1951 campaign total $900, according to J. F. Watkin, chairman of the Drumheller Kinsman Club Christmas Seal committee. The amount is slightly higher than last year's figure for the same date, and leaves $8,100 still to be collected to reach the objective of $9,000 for Drumheller and district.

Provincial receipts reported by C. Robert Dickey, general secretary of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, now amount to $18,500 toward an objective of $185,000.

Mr. Dickey said, "We are greatly encouraged by returns so far, but we have a long way to go yet. Mass surveys with the Christmas Seal mobile chest X-ray units, hospital X-ray installations, rehabilitation and health education, as well as our nursing and welfare services, need to be carried on just as vigorously as ever if we are to maintain the gains we have made against TB."

Mr. Dickey pointed out that Christmas Seal contributions are income tax deductible, and receipts will be sent on request.

18-Year-Old Dies From Injuries

MICHICHI—Glenn Presheo, 18-year old Edmonton construction worker, died shortly before 6 p.m. Friday of last week in the Drumheller hospital, from injuries received earlier in the afternoon on a construction project north of town.

Presheo was working for Nu-West Construction Co. of Edmonton on the Michichi Creek diversion when a 40-ton dragline tractor ran over the lower part of his body. He was rushed to hospital by Winter's Ambulance but died three and a half hours after admittance.

Drumheller Man Is Judge At Chicago

Canadian stockmen were well represented in the competitions of the 1951 International Livestock Exposition, which opened Nov. 24 at the Chicago stock yards for an eight-day run through Dec. 1.

Six Canadians from Alberta and Ontario have been appointed as judges at the Chicago show.

Judges from Alberta are Charles Yule, Calgary, judging Aberdeen-Angus classes; and Phillip Rock, Drumheller, placing Suffolk sheep.

Berreth-Colin Wed At Calgary

A lovely wedding was solemnized Nov. 5, in the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Calgary, when Miss Judy Collin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Collin of Calgary, became the bride of Mr. Wesley Berreth of Beiseker, Alberta.

Pastor A. G. Streiffing officiated in the ceremony held in the beautifully decorated church.

The bride chose to wear a closely gathered net skirt with full length lace panel and lace bodice. Her head dress was a beaded crown which matched her lace-trimmed train.

Attending the bride were Merna Collin, Adeline Berreth, and Donna Goudeon, and the flower girl was Barbara Gougeon. Supporting the groom was Howard Gimbel.

Music for the ceremony was played by Mrs. G. Leinweber, and vocal selections were sung by Miss Merna Collin from Glendale, California.

The reception was held at Gene's Restaurant at Calgary.

For the honeymoon at Banff, the bride wore a grey suit with scarlet accessories.

The couple now reside in Calgary.

and the College Girls' trio, Victoria Trachuk, Anne Aere, and Lorena Taylor. The College vocal teacher, Mr. Haymes rendered several solos throughout the day.

An instrumental quartet, consisting of Victor Stoodley, Howard Gimbel, Yvonne Ziegler and Victoria Trachuk, offered several selections.

The College clarinet trio, Geraldine Roth, Yvonne Ziegler and Victoria Trachuk was another favorite. Others outside of college were, Miss Lorena Fox, solo, and ladies' trio consisting of Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. George Leinweber and daughter Shirley Leinweber.

Ministers taking services throughout the day were Elder A. E. Millner, president of Alberta Conference, and other ministers were Messrs. Green, Bock, Blair, Crawford, Smart and Seamen. Main speakers were Messrs. Millner, Smart and Blair.

There were five meetings throughout the day outside of the evening program.

The main topic, Youths' Problems, given by Elder Smart, president of the Canadian Medical Cadet Corps, was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. He demonstrated to the audience that by taking supposedly like solutions and testing them, found them to be very different, thus proving that people today may think nothing wrong with one thing and yet by testing themselves find it truly wrong. This may lead them into trouble.

A question box was set up whereby people could place their questions. These were answered in the last meeting of the afternoon by Rev. Millner, Smart, Bock, Blair and Crawford.

Starting at 1:30 p.m., a concert was given by the Union College band. It was of interest to note seven band members that used to

New Canadian Flag

More and more, our country is taking its place as an equal among other nations of the world. An integral part of the British Commonwealth of nations, it is nonetheless wholly independent of the mother country.

People in the United States who know their U.S. history of the Revolutionary war of 1776 often have queer ideas about Canada's relationship to Great Britain. "We won our independence, why don't you?" is the attitude of some Americans. Part of this misconception is due to our continued use of the British flag as our flag and terms such as "Dominion of Canada" when referring to the country of Canada.

Parliament is abolishing the term Dominion. How about a distinctive Canadian flag?

Cut Living Cost

Canadians could greatly reduce the cost of living by revising their eating habits. It isn't necessary, for instance, to eat pure white bread, but it costs more and hasn't the same high food value.

This is one of the reasons why bread costs more in Canada than it does in Great Britain. Another reason is that Britain subsidizes bread from heavy British taxes. But the fact remains that British bread is made from 84 per cent extraction flour, while Canadians want a white bread from 62 per cent extraction.

The Dangerous Tractor

The Alberta Wheat Pool's clipping file shows that at least 18 farm people have lost their lives in tractor accidents in Alberta so far this year. Many others received disabling and painful injuries.

The latest fatal accident occurred in the Reno district near Peace River when Sidney Yaskovich was killed. His tractor toppled as it went off the edge of the road and Mr. Yaskovich was crushed beneath.

Farm people should never forget that the farm tractor is a dangerous implement. They should take particular care when operating it on a road. The tractor has a high centre of gravity and tips much more easily than an automobile.

The Arms Race

Just at present the peace of the world is being threatened as it never has been troubled before. In Iran and Egypt clouds are gathering on the horizon in deepening darkness. In Korea the massed guns are blazing in anger, even while armistice talks are being renewed. In the United States and Russia, the arms race is gaining tempo with blasts of atomic bombs and new weapons of destruction thundering out of great clouds of terrifying magnitude.

The cruel race seems on, with the end known to be immeasurable death and destruction for the nations, unless a halt is called to man's murderous designs. Reports of new atomic trial blasts follow one another from Russia and the United States, alternating their frightful threats to a peace loving world in terror of the final result.

Always before the great wars that have wrought their devastation and massed death, these arms races have taken place and never before has the race ended without bloodshed and horror for millions of mankind. Is it likely that nations forging their weapons of death can stop in time to avert the final triumph of evil and injustice?

The Canadian people are looking to their government with anxious eyes to put a stop to the evil designs of warmongers and bring peace to the world. The Christian church must join hands with all lovers of peace in every land and storm the heavens in prayer that God will hasten His day of universal peace before it is too late.

The Big Eye

By JACK SCOTT

Earlier this week I had a good look at what television is doing to the south. It put an awful wilt in my enthusiasm. Fact is, this new miracle is going to make some fundamental changes in the ordinary guy's way of living.

I went into one of the many cocktail bars that advertise television, hoisted myself on the last available red leather stool, ordered a Pabst and focussed on the screen. The set was down at one end of the bar, well above the eye level. All the customers had their heads cocked, giving them something of the appearance of robins listening for worms.

Curiously enough, the faces of my fellow listeners were utterly without expression. Later, when I mentioned this to the bartender, he said they had a name for it. They call it "the Video Stare."

"It ain't like a movie," this observer told me. "Even on the comedy shows you hardly ever see anybody laughing. They just look at it with that stare like it was hypnotizing them or something. In a movie, see, you're concentratin' on the screen. But here with people movin' around and waiters and bartenders mixin' drinks nobody pays much attention to the television. They look at it, but don't see it. Know what I mean?"

From what I saw in this and a couple of other bistros I'd say the bartender was right. Television in these places plays much the same role as the juke box. The music from the juke box is absorbed by the ear almost unconsciously. The flickering screen acts the same way on the eye. The net effect of both is to make the tavern a less pleasant retreat and to murder any real conversation.

In the homes, however, it is different.

I arrived at one friend's home just after the channel had closed down and assisted in the ceremony of pushing the chesterfield back into place. There were four guests, neighbors, and they left within the next 10 minutes.

"There you see a perfect example of the Video Bum," my friend said when the neighbors had left. "Got so we never spend a quiet evening alone any more. We have the only set in the block and they're beating a path to our door. All we need is a box office outside and we'd be just like a movie. This thing is making me anti-social."

I suggested this might be merely because television has the attraction of being new and that the visitors would either buy sets of their own or weary of the novelty.

"I hoped so at first," my host said, "but it isn't working out that way. A lot of people keep putting off buying a set because they're pretty sure there'll be some big improvements in the near future and also that the price may come down. And as for them getting bored with it—just the opposite. As a habit this thing is worse than marijuana. And, of course it's free."

I had business to do with some newspaper executives, each of whom has a set. I asked them what effect television has had in their homes.

"Murder," one said. "It's first had effect is educational. Our kids are nuts about television as they never were about radio. They keep glued to that bright square and most of the stuff they see is just junk. A year ago we thought our eldest boy, Bill, was going to be a reader. He was getting interested in books and ideas that were advanced for his age and I was happy about it. Video is keeping him away from that."

"But that's as true of adults as it is with kids," another put in. "The thing has a fascination about it. It keeps you from other interests. People have learned to be selective about ordinary radio. With television they'll look at anything that moves. And so far, at any rate, video has all the cultural aspect of a burlesque theatre."

Note and Comment

Efforts are being made in Saudi Arabia to extend the facilities of ancient irrigation systems by the use of modern irrigation techniques. However, water rights in this country are as intricate as the tunnels themselves which often cross one another at various levels and much of the government's trouble is to avoid infringing complex traditional customs.

The new move is, however, important because agriculture in Saudi Arabia depends entirely on irrigation, and though the areas under cultivation are widely separated by desert, they can be extended by a more efficient distribution of water. Rains in the autumn and early winter, which are not allowed to escape into the salt mudflats on the coastal plain, will be controlled by dams.

Combining the British Union Jack with the French fleur des lis, the above is suggestion of the Lions Club of Canada for solution of Canada's controversial flag question.

DRIVER EDUCATION

Dear Sir—Some months ago you were kind enough to publish details of General Motors' Driver Education Program.

After seven months, including the two vacation months, we are happy to report that it is in use in 145 schools from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

The Department of Education in each Province has a film kit in its library for the use of High Schools in outlying areas.

The RCMP plan to take the kit into use in their training depots and in their youth work.

The police departments in some areas are using the films in their own driver training program.

To date the program has been most successful in bringing to the attention of education authorities the possibility of making a contribution to the solution of the traffic problem through the education of young drivers. The role to be played by audio visual aids in making this education effective is, of course, generally recognized. The General Motors Driver Education kit has been accepted as an outstanding set of visual aids.

THANKS FROM RED CROSS

Dear Sir—May we take this opportunity of thanking you, most sincerely, for your generosity in promoting the Red Cross' September appeal for grain. We feel certain that had the weather permitted a harvest this year, that the time and space given by the media of Alberta would have encouraged the farmers to complete the needed $40,000 quota.

While we were not successful in reaching our objective, we do want you to know that we appreciate, greatly, your support and interest in the service we render crippled children in this province.

Yours sincerely,

MAGAZINE WRITER SEES GREAT INDUSTRIAL FUTURE IN ALBERTA'S OILFIELDS

Rampaging wells and eager people are signs of the times in booming Alberta, whose oil find is the most significant on the continent since Texas Spindletop roared in 50 years ago.

Hailing a "brilliant industrial future for the top half of the continent," a December Reader's Digest article, condensed from Time, notes that since 1947, when the first Alberta well came in, 45 new oilfields have been established across the province. Portable derricks have drilled more than two new wells a day. Over 300 million U.S. dollars, "one of the freest and fastest streams of American private capital ever sluiced into a foreign country," have been invested in Alberta oil.

The Digest article, "Alberta Strikes It Rich," is being published in international editions of the magazine throughout the world. Through it, editors point out, more than 50 million people in several dozen different countries will learn about Alberta's oil progress.

With "characteristic Canadian reserve," the article says, Alberta has suppressed most of the roistering atmosphere of a traditional oil boom. But evidence of a changing frontier is visible everywhere. Edmonton's population has leaped from 113,000 to 160,000 since 1946. Full-fledged towns have mushroomed across the countryside. New schools, hospitals and highways, financed with government oil revenue, are building up and down the province. Alberta has reduced taxes seven per cent. Its debt has been cut in half.

Great pools of natural gas have also been probed by the drills. Enthusiastic U.S. oil men envision the Alberta of the future as a northern Texas whose oil and gas pipelines will fan out over the top half of the continent. Already Alberta oil is flowing fast enough to fill a third of Canada's needs.

"All this," the Digest article concludes, "has been accomplished in four years, with only the first big rush from the wells. For Alberta, the brimming best is yet to come."

Final Wheat Payment "Highest Can Expect"

Henry Young, president of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, said he approved of the $1.85 1-2 per bushel for No. 1 Northern wheat, final payment announced by the Wheat Board. "It was the highest price we could expect to get under the present system," he said.

Mr. Young said western farmers subsidize the Canadian public to the amount of 20c on every bushel of wheat sold. He is not satisfied with the present method of selling wheat for domestic consumption.

Roy C. Marler, president of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, said, "I think the payment is acceptable considering the terms of the international agreement."

He believed the price was "a little low" considering increased prices for other commodities, and increased costs to the farmer.

28 Towns To Have Automatic Phones

Twenty-eight Alberta towns will have their present telephone systems changed to automatic exchanges when Alberta Government Telephones begin their long-range improvement plan soon.

Mr. Alfred Higgins, general manager and deputy minister of telephones announced recently that, through the plan, the A.G.T. plans to "provide better service and modern equipment at a reasonable cost."

Mr. Higgins added that it may take 15 years to complete the entire plan, but the immediate attention will be focussed on six centers, at a cost exceeding $1,000,000.

Beyond Jasper Place and Nain, Mr. Higgins says the department is not prepared to release the names of other towns involved in the program.

Telephone Growth Outlined To Gyro Club

Ralph Losie, superintendent of the general plant of Alberta Government Telephones, told members of the Edmonton Gyro Club at a luncheon recently that telephone installations have increased to a rate of 10,000 a year, since the war when the two companies were almost swamped with orders.

The sudden increase has been supported by the oil boom, he added.

Mr. Losie stated that as an example of the growth of the system, the line between Edmonton and Calgary has been increased from eight wires to 39, to carry the additional load.

He pointed out that there has not been an increase in rates since 1926, but the future expenditures of A.G.T. might forecast a rise in the near future.

In the years since Denmark launched the first Christmas Seal Sale in 1904, over two score countries have used this method of raising money to fight tuberculosis. Some of the countries were forced to stop their Christmas Seal Sales during World War II and have not been able to start them again. There are now about 30 countries, spread over all the continents, which use the Christmas Seal Sale to raise funds for TB prevention.

Short Courses in Agriculture

Nothing means more to the welfare of Western Canada than well-managed farms and good farm homes. Today, as never before, farming requires not only a wide variety of skills but also a lot of technical knowledge. In other words, successful farming calls for well-trained and educated young men and women.

Training Facilities. No country in the world provides better facilities for the teaching of agriculture than does Western Canada. The Faculties of Agriculture and Home Economics at our prairie Universities, and the Provincial Schools of Agriculture in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are equipped and staffed to provide broad and sound education and training for agricultural people.

Short Courses. Each fall and winter the agricultural colleges and schools throughout Western Canada provide a wider variety of Short Courses in Agriculture for young men and women. Courses in Field Crops, Farm Machinery, Home Economics, Dairying, Poultry and Horticulture are tailor-made for young men and women, 16 years and over, who intend to farm. They are designed to emphasize the practical aspects of farming. To meet the needs of farm people most Short Courses are of one or two weeks duration only, and the fees are low. Anyone who attends one of these courses will return home not only better equipped to carry on his farming operations but better qualified to give leadership in his own rural community.

We urge Line Elevator Agents to encourage the young farm people of their own districts to attend an Agricultural Short Course this fall or winter. Today, training in agriculture is an important key to successful farming.

For application forms and further information, write directly to The Dean of Agriculture at your provincial University, or to The Principal of your nearest School of Agriculture (Brandon, Man.; Saskatoon, Sask.; Olds, Vermilion and Fairview, Alta.).

7th Day Adventists Hold Council Meet In Cleveland, Ohio

During the 10-day session, the Adventist churchmen heard leaders of the denomination's 10 overseas divisions report that "prospects were never brighter for Christian mission in most areas of the world."

Pastor Wilhelm Mueller, Adventist church leader from Berlin, reported a 75 per cent membership increase in Germany since the war and the rebuilding of 253 of the 450 church buildings destroyed by bombs.

In response to appeals for more workers and enlarged facilities, the council voted the largest foreign missions budget in the history of the church. The $17 million total for overseas and special projects at home does not include local church funds.

Adventists have established nearly 800 schools since 1948 making a total of 4,438 colleges, academies and elementary schools around the world. E. J. Johanson, statistical secretary, announced. During the same period 13 new hospitals were opened.

The council voted a resolution of strong protest against the appointment of a U.S. ambassador to the Vatican "as a violation of the principle of separation of church and state."

Farm Federation Urges Emergency Credit For Farmers Without Crops

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, held in Calgary, the Federation decided that immediate arrangements must be made for a line of farm credit available for those requiring financial assistance as a result of not harvesting any crop, and for those who have harvested all or part, but are not able to market any as a result of plugged facilities.

Also that seed grain requirements for next year particularly, require immediate attention before too much of the limited amount of seed grain is shipped out of the Province. AFA's information is that a portion of the Province out of Red Deer to the border is facing a major deficit of available seed grain. The Federation is asking from the Dominion Government direction to the Canadian Wheat Board to pay storage on grain on the farm until adequate space is available for the grain to be marketed. Storage payment would be comparable to storage now paid to grain companies.

Consideration was given to the details of the program for the annual meeting of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture which will be held December 17, 18 and 19, inclusive, in the Palliser Hotel, Calgary.

Tuberculosis kills more men than women in Canada, but in certain age groups the toll amongst women is high. Over one-third of the deaths among women between 20 and 29 are caused by tuberculosis.

Needlecraft News
by Pauline Roy

HUSTLING AND bustling is in the air as active and smart women solve their holiday problems by making use of spare moments to tuck away another present. Pretty doilies are turned out at amazing speed while riding in trains, street cars and buses or while being "dummy" at bridge. Crocheting is fast to do with just a few stitches on the hook at a time enabling one to pick it up and put it down at a minute's notice without having to recount numbers of stitches.

Crochet in Color

Color in crochet work is becoming more and more popular with crochet fans. It assists women to create truly beautiful and life-like designs that will blend with the color combinations of rooms. One of the newest fashions in crochet is the floral doily worked in contrasting colors. The color range in crochet cottons is wide so that you'll be able to match or contrast them with the color scheme of your room. Why not surprise a friend with a doily or a scarf that you've made for her home?

Fun for the School Girl

The younger generation is learning to sew, knit and crochet by making pretty things for friends, themselves and for their own rooms. They are putting dainty lace edges on hankies for Mother or Teacher who both know the value of hand work and appreciate the time and care spent in making a special gift just for her. Little girls also enjoy making pretty collars and cuffs, either in all lace or putting lace edges on fine fabrics. Yes, it's really a fascinating and useful hobby. Patterns can be found in crochet catalogues and beginners can learn easily by following diagrams, while experts are forever searching for new and simple patterns because they know simplicity is the basis of good taste, and speed is important in preparing one's gifts.

Set of Doilies

The dainty crochet refreshment set pictured here has four small doilies 5 1/2 inches in diameter and a large one about 11 inches. Directions are given for white or ecru, but think how pretty and refreshing it could be in a pretty green or soft pink, adding grace and charm to any table. It's truly a welcome gift for this festive season. If you wish to make this pretty REFRESHMENT SET, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting Leaflet No. 7715.

No—Quite Late

"What time do you get up in the morning nowadays?" said the very earnest man.

"As soon as the first rays of sun enter our window," replied his friend.

"Jove!" exclaimed the earnest man. "That's early, isn't it?"

"No," said the other. "You see, my window faces west."

No Place For a Lady

It was the first variety performance an elderly woman had ever seen, and she was particularly excited over the feats of the illusionist. But when he covered a newspaper with a heavy flannel cloth and read the print through it she grew a little nervous. He then doubled the cloth and again read the letters accurately.

This was more than she could stand and, rising in her seat, she said: "I'm goin' home. This ain't no place for a lady in a thin calico dress!"

An elderly lady, after long trips through impressive hallways and an hour of waiting, was permitted to see a high up assistant in the Agriculture Department.

"But I want to see the Secretary of Agriculture himself," she protested.

"He's not in just now, madam," said the official. "Can't you tell me what it is you want to see him about?"

"Well, I have a geranium that isn't doing so well."

More Time

Harrison met Johnson after several years. "And is your wife as lovely as ever?" he asked him.

"Oh, yes," replied Johnson, "but now it takes half an hour longer!"

No Rain

An Indian had attended services one Sunday morning. The sermon had been very loud in spots and the Indian, though a good Christian, was not greatly impressed.

Later, when asked how he had liked the sermon, he said: "High wind. Big thunder. No rain!"

Letter to Louisa

Dear Louisa—I am married to a man who has built a home on his first wife's property. Of course it belongs to her children, as it should, but he has property and money to build us a home. His children are grown up.

Our plans were to live in this house one year, but he says he may not build one at all. I am not happy here and he is well aware of that. In fact, I can't stand it.

A separation would be bad for the children on both sides. I have grown children who are all on their own.

We could be very happy if things were different. I feel out of place here. Maybe you can help me.

VERY DISSATISFIED.

step-children are married or single, but I suppose you feel that you are not really mistress of your home and this makes you unhappy.

I think you should either be mistress of your husband's home, or if he feels that it belongs to his children even before his death, he should move to another home that you can run.

No woman likes to play second fiddle in her home and a man should have that matter settled before he marries a second time.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa—We are a couple of very unhappy girls. We, without realizing it, stood up a couple of fellows that we like a lot.

We accepted a second date after we thought they had gone. Unfortunately, they saw us and now they won't speak to us. But they are always passing us and ignoring us.

We would like your advice as to how we can get them to talk to us so we can explain the situation.

Please help us.

DOUBLE-TROUBLED.

Answer:

I think your best plan is to write them a letter and start it off by asking them to read it through. Then tell them that you would not have stood them up, knowingly, but that you had reason to think they had gone. Then ask them to give you an opportunity to explain to them the circumstances.

If a letter doesn't do the trick, I don't know any better method.

LOUISA.

27TH INFANTRY BRIGADE TOUR OF EUROPE TO BE ENJOYABLE

All work and no play is reputed to be the perfect recipe for dullness, but Canadian authorities are not taking any chances as far as the troops of the 27th Infantry Brigade Group are concerned.

Everything possible is being done to make the troops' tour of Europe duty enjoyable.

In all likelihood, the 27th Brigade, when on leave in Europe, will be allowed to travel in all NATO countries without special passports. Representations have been made through the Department of External Affairs which, if approved, will enable the troops to travel in these countries on leave in uniform, carrying only leave authorization and personal identification card.

There won't be any excuse for the lads not writing home frequently, either, and telling their wives, girl friends and parents about their travels. The Canadian Legion Educational Services have arranged to supply reading and writing material for use during the ocean voyage and also to provide the initial scale of reading and writing material for distribution in Europe. This will arrive at the brigade's new headquarters

Three Hills Presbytery Holds Rally

The semi-annual rally of the Three Hills Presbytery of United Church was held at Acme on Nov. 18. Registration began at 11:30 followed by a delicious hot luncheon at noon in the church hall.

The tables were decked with lovely china and adorned with candles and air-plants. To suit the occasion, the beverages were served from silver tea service.

The afternoon sessions was opened at 1:30 by the president, Mrs. Christie, of Three Hills.

The worship service was presented by the Three Hills group.

Mrs. Upton rendered a solo, "As the Days Are Going By." Mrs. Rollis gave the welcoming speech.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Thorne, Red Deer, the representative of the 14 Alberta Presbyteries. She gave an interesting talk on the work of the church and our duty towards it. Mrs. W. Redicoff then sang a hymn.

Mrs. Harpoff was nominated as Presbytery secretary.

The spring rally will be held at Three Hills sometime in March, the date to be announced later.

Mrs. Upton gave a talk on congregational singing and then led the ladies in two hymns.

The Rev. Mr. Hughson closed the meeting with a benediction.
